19.2 BT may subcontract the performance of any of its obligations under the Contract, including subcontracting the provision of any Services to a BT Affiliate, although BT will remain responsible for the performance of its obligations under the Contract to the Customer. If BT subcontracts the performance of any of its rights or obligations to a BT Affiliate as described in this clause 19.2, the Customer will, once it receives notice from BT in accordance with clause 21, deal directly with the BT Affiliate for ordering, provisioning or maintaining the Services.

20.1 (a) The Contract contains the entire agreement between the Customer and BT and supersedes all previous understandings, commitments, representations, agreements, draft agreements, arrangements, undertakings, or prior collateral contracts of any nature made by the Customer and BT, whether written or oral relating to its subject matter.

(b) The Customer and BT each agree that in entering into the Contract they have not relied upon and have no rights or remedies (whether in tort, under statute or otherwise) in respect of any statements, collateral or other warranties, assurances, undertakings or representations (whether innocently or negligently made) of any party (whether party to the Contract or not) in relation to the subject matter of the Contract, except for those contained in the Contract.

If any term of the Contract is held invalid, illegal or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, it will be severed and the remaining terms will continue in full force as if the Agreement had been made without the invalid, illegal or unenforceable terms.

23. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

23.1 All Intellectual Property Rights whether pre-existing or created by the Customer or BT during or arising from the performance of the Contract will remain the absolute property of that party or its licensors.

23.2 If software is provided to enable the Customer to receive and use the Service, BT will grant the Customer a, non-transferable and non-exclusive licence to use the software in object code form solely as necessary for receipt of the Service and solely in accordance with the Contract and the applicable documentation. The term of any licence granted by BT under this clause is co-terminus with the term of the Service with which the software is associated.

- (b) any unauthorised modification of the Service or any Software; or
- (c) content, designs, specifications or software supplied by or on behalf of the Customer; or
- (d) use of the Service or any software other than in accordance with the Contract.

- (a) secure for the Customer a right of continued use; or
